

Dear Dr. Bunt,

Thank you so much for helping my family. Fred is getting stronger each day. I thank God that he led you to us. We have had a dark cloud removed in our lives. I make it a point each and everyday to talk to people at the candy store about you and the Power of HSCT. My goal is to educate each & everyone who is willing to listen. I think I have written your name & the hospital's hundreds of times over the course of 8 months!

On your birthday,
just relax and go with the flow.

With the greatest of love & thanks!
Happy Birthday!

Fred & Beth

Hello Kate,

You definitely have our permission to publish the letter.

Just in case you don't know, Fred was gravely sick when he went in for his preliminary checkup before his transplant.

Fred had over 40 active lesions on his brain and spine. My oldest daughter took him for that appointment. I was unable to go due to work.

After Dr. Burt examining Fred, he immediately admitted him. At that time, Fred couldn't walk, talk without studding, or even roll himself over in bed. His cognitive thinking was that of a 3 year old. He had no idea what one plus one was.

After a call from Dr. Burt's office, I came home from work and frantically cleaned my house. You see, I was preparing for my husband's funeral. I then scooped up my youngest daughter and drove from Youngstown, OH to Chicago.

Dr. Richard K. Burt saved his life. He was on the brink of no return and Dr. Richard K. Burt reeled him back in.

On Valentine's 2017, my husband gave me a gift from his hospital bed. I remember it as though it was yesterday. He put on the Rolling Stones from his phone, stood up, took my hand and danced with me.

Until that day, he hadn't stood up on his own in months. My husband was back. Day after day after H.S.C.T, he began to regain his functions. His speech cleared. No more studding. His cognitive functions were back. The fog had lifted. The clouds were gone.

Dr. Burt was a gift given from God. He was my husband's gift. He was a prayer answered.

Thank you Dr. Burt for all of the endless and tireless hours you spent perfecting this procedure. Thank you for the countless hours you spent teaching this treatment. Thank you for taking on big pharma with a positive solution that will impact the lives of M.S. patients and their families forever. Most of all, thank you for giving my husband a reason to live. M.S. FREE!

Sincerely,

Beth, Fred
