Dear Richard-

Many thanks for sending your most interesting book and website link. Your career has certainly been one to be proud of. As I said earlier, I know a lot of biomedical researchers but precious few whose efforts have resulted in tangible and long-lasting human health improvement. Your clinical advancements are resulting in huge quality-of-life changes for your patients, and I am sure there are many people on the planet whose lives have been absolutely transformed (for the better) by HSCT.

Very best wishes,
